

Literacy and Reading

A list of good books for this topic on Active Learn are: Pandas, Awesome Animal Adventures, Extreme Living, Keeping a Pet, The Penguins of Madagascar, Tricking the Tiger, Zoo Map.

Read Ronald the Rhino story. Can you answer some of the questions about it? (You can find this on our school website).

Watch some webcams of endangered animals at a zoo: <https://www.edinburghzoo.org.uk/webcams>

Choose one of the animals and write a diary entry or story as if you are that animal. What would a day in the life of a panda at the zoo be like? What happens after the zoo closes?

Can you make a fact file about an endangered animal?

Animal Kingdom!

Week 1

Endangered Animals

Understanding the World (Science, History and Geography)

Label a map of the world, identifying at least one animal that is endangered on each continent. (you can download this from our website or have a go at drawing the outline yourself)

What can you find out about bees and why they are important?

Don't forget Joe Wick's daily P.E lesson at 9am!

Communication and Language

Record yourself reading your letter (see PSHE) explaining which animal you would adopt.

Play endangered animals 'Top Trumps' (You could either use the resource saved to the school website or create your own).

Talk to somebody at home about any aspect of this learning at the end of the week.

Creative (Music, Drama and Art)

Make a poster with the theme 'Protect endangered animals'.

Make your own bumblebee finger painting.

Check out the WWF website for craft ideas such as milk bottle polar bear lantern and toilet roll penguin!

Listen to the 'Animals in Danger' song. Can you sing along? (words and music can be downloaded from our school website)

Personal, Social and Health Education PSHE

Find out about being an animal 'adopter' and how it can make a difference. Try looking at the below website for information:

<https://support.wwf.org.uk/adopt-an-animal>

Write down which animal you would like to adopt and why. You could write this as a letter.
